Town of Danville Continues Efforts to Protect Drinking Water

The Town of Danville has developed a Wellhead Protection (WHP) Plan, which was approved by the Indiana Department of Environmental Management (IDEM) on October 30, 2009. Since then, the Local Planning Team has met annually to update the Plan and implement management strategies to protect our drinking water source. A complete copy of the WHP Plan and other educational materials are available for public viewing at the Danville Water Department, located at 620 East Main Street, Danville, Indiana and at the Danville Town Hall, located at 49 North Wayne Street, Danville, Indiana.
